Custom Theme Award

Alpine Terrain and Figurine

Is your company quickly associated with an animal or some other object or symbol? If so, why not use it in an award? The art director at Aurora Dairy even had the perfect cow in this case, so this job was easy. With the plaque called "Alpine Terrain" as a background and a beveled wooden base, this is also a good example of an award that was made from another award, with the addition of a few alternate elements.
