Recycled Content Award

Reclaimed Large Award (RRRM Silver)

When contractors have leftover white marble tile or smaller flagstone pieces, what do they do with them? Throw them away! Most do not keep scraps because of storage problems and the inefficiency of using small pieces. At Haertling.com Awards we collect this type of material and make good use of it, making awards like this one. Even with the added costs of working with recycled materials, we are still able to provide a cost savings when using recycled material. One more savings is the savings of earth's beautiful resources that are otherwise wasted. The background material is slate, 11" tall 60% recycled materials (RRRM Silver)
